Reflections by Pastor Keith...

On Friday Jesus died. He died pretty much alone. The crowds which had watched him and listened to him and followed him were no longer there. Even most of his closest followers had fled the scene. But something happened early Sunday morning. Something remarkable.

It was still dark when Mary Magdalene fumbled around for her sandals and wrapped a tunic over her shoulders and headed for the tomb. The sun had not yet broken the darkness when Mary reached the tomb, the place where Jesus had been buried. When she got there she gasped, for she saw that the tomb was not as she had left it. Something was wrong, terribly wrong. The stone which had sealed the tomb had been moved. The grave was open! Frightened, confused, bewildered, she turned and ran as fast as she could. She went straight to the house where Simon Peter was staying. She banged on the door, loudly, frantically, her heart pounding within. "They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have laid him!"

Peter found John and woke him up. They raced to the tomb. It was still dark when they got there. The younger disciple reached the tomb first. He stopped, looked in. It was just as Mary had said. The body was not there, only the linen wrappings. Peter, panting and holding his side, stopped, looked at John, then entered the tomb. He stared at the linen wrappings and the cloth that had been on Jesus's head, now rolled up neatly right where the head of Jesus had lain. What had happened? Where was the body? Who would do such a thing? Simon's muscles tightened as he stared at the empty grave clothes.

The other disciple followed him into the tomb. He looked around. We are told he believed. But what did he believe? For in the very next sentence we are told that these early visitors to the tomb did not understand the scripture, that Jesus must rise from the dead. They looked. They saw. But they did not understand. Shocked and confused, they left the grave and returned home.

What a strange Easter story. Mary is perplexed by the missing body. Peter does not know what to make of an empty tomb. The other disciple believes. But none of them understand.

It is not unlike what many experience in 2022. They know it is Easter, a holiday. Perhaps they know the story of Jesus. They react, though, with doubt and disbelief. Many today are perplexed by the Easter story and don't know what to make of it.

But something happened. Something remarkable. A community was born. A world wide community. Today there are billions of men and women and boys and girls who follow Jesus. Billions who confess faith in him. Billions who live and die for him. In every continent. Young and old. Of all races. And it started that first Easter morning.

Later that morning Mary returned to the tomb, shedding tears and filled with grief. She wept as she stared at the stone which had been shoved aside. She wept as she stared at the linen wrappings which had covered the body of Jesus. She wept as she stared at the place where Jesus had lain. She wept. Her whole body shook as tears gushed from her eyes. She wept tears of grief. But they were also tears of confusion, tears of consternation, tears of trepidation.

Two angels appeared. "Woman, why are you weeping?" "They have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have laid him," replied Mary.

She turned around and saw the gardener, or at least she thought it was the gardener. "Woman, why are you weeping?" "Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have laid him?"

Then it happened. "Mary." The darkness was broken. "Mary." No longer was she left alone to grieve. "Mary." A voice was calling. "Mary." It was Jesus, the Risen Lord. "Mary." The Risen Lord was calling her to faith. "Mary." The Risen Lord was calling her into a community of believers. "Mary." This is the miracle of Easter!

Perhaps you are not sure what to make of it all. Perhaps you are wondering what Easter means for you. Perhaps the future looks uncertain. Perhaps you are grieving the death of a loved one. Perhaps you are worried about your health. Perhaps you are having trouble at work. Perhaps your stress level is getting out of hand. Perhaps you are worried about your family or about your church. Perhaps you are distraught about what is happening in society. Perhaps you are just drifting through life. Or perhaps life is treating you well and you are feeling great. So what about Easter? Just what does this empty tomb have to do with you and your life in 2022?

Just as Mary was called to faith when Jesus called her by name, so it is with us as well. The community of believers is called to life by the word of Jesus. It happened with Mary. It has happened with me. It happens with you. This is the Word we hear in Baptism. This is the Word we hear when our name is spoken and the water splashes over us. This is the Word which has been spoken to you. "Do not fear, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by name, you are mine," says the Lord, the Risen Christ. Take this Word to heart and let it change your life.

Listen! Your name is being called. The Risen Lord is calling you. Jesus who died on the cross and buried in the tomb has stepped out of that tomb and is calling you, calling you by name, calling you into the community of believers, calling to give you new life, calling to give you life with God!

Do not fear! This is the work of God! You move into an uncertain future not alone, but with the Risen Jesus!

Keep the faith. Love God. Love others. Be the people of God!

The peace of Christ be with you,

Pastor Keith

Holy Week and Easter

Follow Jesus as he enters Jerusalem and takes on our brokenness and prepares to die for you. What a Lord! What grace! This service prepares us for the week ahead, a week that is truly Holy!

Maundy Thursday - April 14

On this night Jesus gave his followers the command to love one another and prepared a special meal called Holy Communion. We gather at 7:00 pm at Olsburg to remember the events of that night and to break bread with our Lord and with one another.

Good Friday - April 15

On this Friday we call Good we gather at 7:00 pm at Walsburg to tell the story which is at the heart and center of our faith. Because of Good Friday, there is healing for our brokenness. Do not hurry by the cross on your way to Easter joy, for we know the Risen Lord only through the Crucified Christ.
